Mission Statement
The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is a forum for adults of all academic and economic backgrounds to learn about a wide variety of subjects they find interesting and engaging.

OLLI at ISU’s Purpose
The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Indiana State University (OLLI at ISU) is a non-profit, membership organization open to all adults but geared towards individuals age 50 and older, regardless of academic background. At its center are learning programs designed by its members and tailored to suit their interests. These programs (lectures, courses, and special events) are offered without concern for grades, credits, or prerequisites. Indeed, the only requirement for membership in the Institute is a desire to learn.

The Institute emphasizes collaborative leadership and active member participation. The primary responsibilities for programs are assumed by Institute members, all of whom volunteer their time. However, it is only because of the substantial support of the Bernard Osher Foundation and Indiana State University that the Institute can offer these unique learning opportunities to residents of the Wabash Valley. The Osher Institute is also affiliated with the Road Scholar (Elderhostel Institute Network).

WHAT MEMBERS SAY ABOUT OLLI!

Carol Pabst: A good friend of mine had a stroke a few years ago. Gradually, her movements have become more concentrated. In order to encourage some aerobic exercise without stressing her joints, we joined the water aerobics course. The ISU arena pool water was very cold, but the warmth of the instructor's smile and the laughter of all the participants made the class very enjoyable. My friend can no longer drive at night, so the next few months will be dryer for us. But look out Spring! We will be making some waves!

Brenda Christianson: I truly enjoyed the trip to Lafayette, Indiana, to visit the Haan Mansion with its fine architecture, furnishings and exquisite art pieces.

Willie Watson: Thanks for giving us a wide variety of programs to choose from. The price for membership & prices for the programs is certainly fair.

Mike Phillips: I am a retired U.S. History/Government teacher, and particularly enjoyed the OLLI Early Indiana History, and WWII B-17 classes, as well as the session on the Alaskan native peoples held at Westminster a couple years ago. Unfortunately I had scheduling conflicts that prevented me from taking Donald Layton's classes on WWII in Europe, and the class on old Fort Harrison.

Dixie Brown: OLLI has allowed me to explore topics of interest as I gather with old friends, and meet new people. The subjects are diverse and the presentations are excellent!

Patty Butwin: OLLI at ISU offers great programs for expanding my mind, and keeping me in touch with the what's happening around campus. I especially enjoy classes with undergraduate students, and programs focused on Broadway Musicals, Shakespeare's Classics, Politics, and Art/Architecture. Can't wait to see what's in the Catalog for Winter 2015!

Pat Breault: I became interested in World War II because my father was in it. I went to Dr. Layton's lectures, and was so impressed, that I took a tour in Europe. I knew next to nothing about World War I so I enrolled in his lectures for this semester. I left the class wishing I had his notes so I could absorb more of what he had to say.

A Survey of Spies: Looking at Espionage in Entertainment since WWII

With Chris Berchild, ISU Chairperson, Department of Theater

Date/Time: Mondays and Wednesdays, January 12, 21, 26 & February 4, 2015 from 3 - 5 PM

Place: ISU, Cunningham Memorial Library, Room 028

Cost: $20

Throughout history, there have always been two stories told about the battles that are waged between nations—the epic clashes fought on a grand scale between two (or more) powers on the field of battle, and the invisible tactics that are waged for information and leverage in the shadows and out of public sight. After the close of WWII—the prime global example of this first style of conflict—the world engaged in a different kind of war, a Cold War, replete with espionage, hidden agendas, and unknown players.

This world of secrets and spies became an obsession of authors and filmmakers in the years since, creating some of the most memorable and exciting books, films, and television series of the 20th and 21st centuries. This course, broken into four parts, will look at works of espionage and intelligence written and filmed since the close of WWII, examining works from the spy novels and stories of Ian Fleming and John le Carré, to the many adventurous films—including Hitchcock and the much lauded Bond and Bourne series, to the small screen—from The Avengers and The Prisoner to today’s The Americans and The Blacklist. Join Chris Berchild as he walks through the last six decades in an examination of all things classified yet popular to see the effects that the Cold War really did have on entertainment!

Cost: Session 1: $30

Session 2: $40

Session 3: $35

Session 4: $45

Minimum: 8

Water aerobics is a moderate to intense aerobic exercise in the water that will give you all the great benefits of a cardio workout with some muscle conditioning and strengthening without the impact on the joints you get from traditional land aerobics. It is a flexible class that allows you to work at your own pace. There are both shallow and deep end exercises but no swimming is required. Equipment is not provided but, for added intensity to your workout, you may want to bring equipment intended for water exercise. Participants must wear swimsuits. Participants will have use of a locker in the arena, but will need to bring their own locks.
New You For the New Year
With Chris Davies, MS, Owner of Fitness Solutions

Date/Time: Tuesdays, January 13, 20, & 27, 2015
from 11 AM - 12 PM

Place: Fitness Solutions,
1101 Walnut Street, Terre Haute

Cost: $15

Fitness Solutions will teach participants to increase strength and flexibility utilizing your own body weight with little to no equipment. Exercises taught will utilize multiple joints for maximum effectiveness and efficiency. You will learn how to do a full body workout in about 20 minutes without travelling to a gym. Additionally you will be taught how to properly structure your own workouts.

Social Issues of the 1960’s: An Intergenerational Dialogue
With Lisa Borrero, ISU Assistant Professor of Applied Health Sciences

Date/Time: Thursdays, January 29, February 26, March 26, and April 30, 2015
from 12:30 - 1:45 PM

Place: ISU, University Hall, Whitaker Conference Room

Cost: $20

Do you remember the 60’s? Do young people understand the profound societal impact the decade of the 1960’s had upon U.S. society? This course brings together OLLI members and undergraduate students enrolled in ISU’s “Society and Aging” class for a collaborative, intergenerational learning experience focusing on key social issues of the 1960’s. Learners of these two generations will come together to analyze, discuss, and reflect upon significant historical events from the decade of the 60’s in order to shed light on the meaning of these events to differing age groups and the impact of the events on the aging experience in the United States. This course is comprised of four face-to-face meetings that will represent a cumulative learning experience done in small groups involving outside research activities, in-class discussions, and a final presentation. As such, OLLI members interested in participating should plan to attend each of the four sessions in order to be part of the complete intergenerational learning experience.
Great World Religions: Christianity
With Reverend Rebecca Zelensky, Central Christian Church

Date/Time: Mondays, February 2, 9, 23, & March 2, 2015 from 3 - 5 PM
Place: ISU, University Hall, Room 212A
Cost: $20

Christianity is the world’s largest religious tradition with current data claiming 2.1 billion followers worldwide. Christianity has played a prominent role in shaping Western civilization and is based on the life, teachings, and death/resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth who lived in ancient Israel two thousand years ago.

In this course we will study and discuss the life and ministry of Jesus, the spread of the early church, how the major branches of Christianity (Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox, and Protestant) developed, the various beliefs and practices of Christians; and major issues and challenges facing Christian faith communities today.

Why Geography Matters
With Dorothy Drummond, Retired Geographic Educator and World Traveler

Date/Time: Tuesdays, February 10, 17, & 24, 2015 from 2 - 4 PM
Place: ISU, University Hall, Room 208
Cost: $15

Learn about the following interesting geographical topics with the Great Courses DVD series and geographical educator Dorothy Drummond.

Session 1
In Language of Maps we will look at how putting a round earth on flat paper makes map-makers have to distort reality. In looking at maps, we need to get into the mind of the mapmaker. Then we will discuss Does Geography Determine Destiny? Does where we live tend to shape how we think and act? Does growing up near the sea, the mountains, in the tropics, in cities, in small towns in a tribal culture, in a deeply religious community determine a person’s destiny?

Session 2
The Human Footprint will talk about how there is almost no pristine environment that human activity has not been continually changed on the earth’s surface. Climate Change and Civilization will explain how past civilizations reveal changes in the environment and how our current civilization, in particularly our heavy use of fossil fuel, is influencing our global climate and raising questions about how humans will adapt.

Session 3
5. Land Change, Past and Present will probe the issue of behind global land change, such as rapid urbanization. The End of Global Population Growth will look at how there are more than seven billion people on the earth today. Exponential growth in the past hundred years holds urgent implications for sustainability. Yet human population growth will likely end before 2050, and slowing population growth may present new challenges.
Indiana History: Civil War

With Chris Olsen ISU Professor and Chair of History, Jim Buffington Emeritus ISU Associate Professor, Chuck Fisher Providence Associate and Volunteer with the Sisters of Providence, Marlene Lu Indiana Freedom Trails

Date/Time: Thursdays, February 26, March 5, 12, & 19, 2015
from 2 - 4 PM

Place: ISU, University Hall, Room 208

Cost: $20

February 26 with Christopher Olsen
This overview of the causes and course of the Civil War focuses on several important themes throughout the era, including race and race relations, state and federal relations, and politics in the Union. It concludes with a brief look at the most important consequences and legacies of the Civil War era.

March 5 with James Buffington
On April 27, 1865, the Steamboat Sultana was steaming northward on the swollen waters of the Mississippi River. The Civil War was just over, and thousands of Union prisoners of war were making their way home. On board the Sultana were thousands of these former prisoners. In the wee hours of the morning just north of Memphis, Tennessee, a boiler on the Sultana exploded. This explosion resulted in the greatest maritime disaster in United States history. This presentation reveals the unfortunate chain of events resulting in the sinking of the steamboat and the part played by Indiana in this largely forgotten tragedy.

March 12 with Charles Fisher
The Sisters of Providence had a significant role during the Civil War. This presentation is part of the Indiana History Series and will open up a chapter of that history that helped numerous families and soldiers at the bequest of Governor Oliver Morton. The Civil War also took a toll on the Sisters’ School (Academy), the students and their families.

March 19 with Marlene Lu
Slaves came through Indiana heading north to seek their freedom. How and where did they go? Many know about the route along the eastern border of the state. Join in as we explore the routes of the Underground Railroad through west central Indiana.
Astronomy

With Holly Hudson, Terre Haute South High School Science Teacher/Planetarium Director

Date/Time: Thursdays, March 12, 19, & 26, 2015 from 6 - 7:30 PM
Place: Terre Haute South High School, Allen Memorial Planetarium 3737 S Seventh Street
Cost: $15

Observing Basics: Stars, Planets, and Our Moon
Reacquaint yourself with the night sky or come as a first time observer to learn how to find constellations and other celestial objects with the unaided eye. We will discuss the yearly, monthly, and daily cycles of objects in the sky. Come and learn how to use a star chart so that you can take it home and continue the exploration. A reminder, at the Planetarium we bring up the stars to simulate the night sky, we are not an observatory with telescopes.

We Know We Are Not Alone, But Are We Unique?
If solar systems are a natural byproduct of a star’s formation, then there should be other solar systems in our galaxy. We will explore how solar systems form, take a look at new and exciting findings in our own solar system and then provide an update on the over 1,500 planets orbiting around other nearby stars.

The Life Cycle of Stars from Birth to Death
Stars, like everything else, have a beginning and an end. Come learn how stars are born, how they live out their lives, the interesting stars they become along the way, and how in the process of their deaths they seed the Universe with the 92 naturally occurring elements that make up planets and life. As Carl Sagan used to say, “We are star dust.” Come and find out how and why.

Southern Fiction and Southern Issues

With Caroline Carvill, Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology Professor of Literature

Date/Time: Wednesdays, March 11, 18, & 25, 2015 from 3 - 4:30 PM
Place: Westminster Village, Meeting Room
Cost: $15

This course will discuss three novels, Raney by Clyde Edgerton, Wolf Whistle by Lewis Nordan, and Fair and Tender Ladies by Lee Smith, and the way they present issues of religion, race, and gender in the south.
Plagues and Pandemics
With Olabode Ayodele, ISU Assistant Professor Department of Applied Health Sciences and Shawn Phillips, ISU Associate Professor of Anthropology

Date/Time: Thursdays, April 2, 9, & 16, 2015 from 2 - 4 PM
Place: ISU, University Hall Room 208
Cost: $15

We hear in the news about plagues and pandemics but do we really know the difference or if there is a difference? A plague is a pandemic but a pandemic is not always a plague.

In this class we will be talking about plagues that are highly infectious, usually fatal, diseases. We won’t be covering plagues of locusts or other calamities. Pandemics can also be plagues and are instances where diseases spread quickly and affect a large number of people.

We will explore the differences, the histories of each, some common diseases linked to them, and ways to prevent, diagnose, and treat them. We will also learn how they can be used as weapons of mass destruction.

Discussions of Great American Bestsellers: Books That Shaped America
With Discussion Coordinator Michelle Bennett

Date/Time: Tuesdays, April 7, 14, & 21, 2015 from 2 - 4 PM
Place: ISU, University Hall Room 208
Cost: $15

Join OLLI members for a continuation of the popular summer class titled “Great American Bestsellers”. Participants will view brief DVD presentations from The Great Courses series and then have a discussion about the novel. You do not need to have read the novel to participate. In the DVD, Professor Peter Conn of Yale University explores the social, political, and cultural influences these novels have had on American values. Join the discussion of The House of Mirth by Edith Wharton, The Maltese Falcon by Dashiell Hammett, and The Woman Warrior by Maxine Hong Kingston. Discussions will be facilitated by Michelle Bennett, Program Administrator of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Indiana State University.
Ancient Rome was an Italic civilization that began on the Italian Peninsula as early as the 8th century BC. Located along the Mediterranean Sea and centered on the city of Rome, it expanded to become one of the largest empires in the ancient world with an estimated 50 to 90 million inhabitants. In its approximately 12 centuries of existence, Roman civilization shifted from a monarchy to a classical republic and then to an increasingly autocratic empire. Through conquest and assimilation, it came to dominate Southern and Western Europe, Asia Minor, North Africa, and parts of Northern and Eastern Europe. Rome was preponderant throughout the Mediterranean region and was one of the most powerful entities of the ancient world. It is often grouped into "Classical Antiquity" together with ancient Greece, and their similar cultures and societies are known as the Greco-Roman world.

Join other OLLI members as we learn about the culture of ancient Rome with Marvin Susott, and then in the following two sessions take a brief look at Roman Structures and Greco-Roman Art. Both topics will be part of the Great Courses collection OLLI owns.

Digital Photography II: Photo Editing
With Emily Gruenert

Date/Time: Wednesdays, January 14 – March 25 from 5:30 – 7:30 PM (10 Wednesdays)
No class on March 18 (ISU Spring Break)

Place: Fine Arts Building, Mac Lab, Room 112 649 Chestnut Street

Cost: OLLI Members $157.50
Maximum Enrollment: 12

Deadline for refunds for withdrawal of classes is January 7, 2015!

Photoshop Elements 12 is used to teach this class. It is recommended, but not mandatory, to have Photoshop Elements 10, 11, or 12 installed on a laptop computer that can be brought to class. Students without laptops have access to lab computers with the full version of Photoshop.

This class allows participants to gain further photo editing experience including learning advanced exposure adjustments, in-depth retouching, use of layers, and adding text to images. Using Photoshop Elements to create photo collages, students learn creative actions to apply to photographs. Participants must have basic photo editing skills, including importing and saving photos, color correction, cropping and rotating, and making basic selections.

Cost: OLLI Members $157.50
Maximum Enrollment: 12

Deadline for refunds for withdrawal of classes is January 7, 2015!

Have you ever wondered about the secret to drawing portraits? This course will cover the fundamentals of mapping and refining the proportions of the human face. While the goal is to capture a likeness of the face, students will experiment with elements such as composition, light and shadow, value, and line. Participants will render textures, explore shading methods, and learn how to draw different views of the head. Students will work in graphite and charcoal using white and colored paper. Emphasis will be on gaining an understanding and appreciation of portraits and increasing the power of observation. As part of the journey into portraiture, students will look at books that emphasize good techniques and study the work of well known portrait artists. Participants will be working from mirrors and photographs. Please visit the website for a supply list.

This winter the Music and Theatre Department at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College will be presenting The Taming of the Shrew is a comedy by William Shakespeare, believed to have been written between 1590 and 1592.

The Taming of the Shrew
The beautiful and gentle Bianca has no shortage of admirers but her father insists that she will not marry until her shrewish sister, Katharina, is betrothed. Bianca's suitors persuade fortune-seeker Petruchio to court her. The suitors pay for any costs involved and there is also the goal of Katharina's dowry. Petruchio marries Katharina and he carries Katharina off to his country house. Katharina is tamed. They return to Padua where Lucentio has won Bianca. At a banquet they wager on who has the most obedient wife. Each wife is issued with commands but only Katharina obeys and promptly lectures everyone on the importance of wifely submission.

Fifi's Lunch Box Baconery & Café started as a mobile kitchen that travels to festivals and local events. Now they have their own restaurant besides catering for companies, corporate events, reunions, weddings and any special occasion. Fifi's Lunch Box provides a twist on the classics with an original flare that is fresh, tasty and easy on the wallet.

You may ask, "Why Fifi's Lunch Box" or "Who is Fifi"? The name Fifi was created about a decade ago when Claudine named her stomach, "Fifi." Now Fifi is a co-owner, co-recipe creator, taste tester and the boss at times. Fifi's uses local, fresh, quality produce/ingredients. They locally purchase their own bacon, patty their own burgers, and prepare their menu items with all fresh ingredients.

The sampling of Fifi’s menu items will open a whole new world of combinations of ingredients that you will never experience in any other restaurant.

Terre Haute Symphony: Rachmaninoff & Mahler

Date/Time: Saturday, April 18, 2015 (See times below)
Place: ISU, Tilson Music Hall
Cost: Dinner $25
Performance Ticket $15
Deadline for Registration is April 6, 2015!

Described by reviewers as having “a big technique and the ability to summon both power and poetry,” Di Wu returns by popular demand to play Rachmaninoff’s strikingly dramatic and powerful Second Piano Concerto. We celebrate the 150th birthday of Finnish composer, Jean Sibelius with his most celebrated work, Finlandia. Mahler’s Symphony No. 1 is one of the most colorful and thrilling pieces ever written. In a letter about his First Symphony, Mahler said: “People are likely to be surprised! It grew to overwhelming – flowing out of me like a mountain torrent! All the floodgates within me were thrown open at one sweep!” The First Symphony serves as a magnificent medium for showcasing our orchestra and provides an exhilarating conclusion to the season.

Another great tradition of the THSO is Supper at the Symphony! This three course, served dinner is the perfect beginning to what is sure to be an elegant evening.

5:00 PM - Cash bar for those who may enjoy a glass of wine before their meal
5:30 PM - Serving begins for the dinner. This is a buffet meal with drink and dessert included.
6:45 PM - Concert Conversations with David Bowden.
7:30 PM - Performance begins

Sylvia will discuss how food can turn cancer promoting genes on and off. She will show how to create a diet that promotes cancer prevention. The discussion will also include which foods can facilitate healing once cancer is active in the body and how it can deter the return of cancer. There will be practical tips on how to include these in the everyday diet.

Drones are Taking Over The World!
With Brendan Kearns, Owner at High Cliff Ahead and Program Specialist at IDNR Healthy Rivers Initiative

Date/Time: Wednesday, January 21, 2015 from 1:30 - 3 PM
Place: Westminster Village
1120 E. Davis Drive, Terre Haute

Well, not necessarily, but the drones’ popularity has exploded in the last year. “Flying Cameras” are now available to the average Joe with a few thousand dollars to spend. Brendan Kearns is one of those average Joe's that purchased a drone. An avid photographer in our community, Brendan uses his drone for his work with the Indiana Department of Natural Resources and for sharing images in our town from a different perspective.

Brendan's program will show you what a "drone" is, how they are being used for the good and the bad, and will show many wonderful pictures and videos from the air. You will not want to miss this engaging and fun presentation.
WEDNESDAY PRESENTATIONS

Public Defenders Are Not "Real Lawyers" and Other Legal Myths
With Gretchen Etling, Chief Public Defender of Vigo County

Date/Time: Wednesday, January 28, 2015
from 1:30 - 3 PM
Place: Westminster Village
1120 E. Davis Drive, Terre Haute

Contrary to public opinion, Public Defenders are real lawyers. In fact, the training and experience required for the public defender position is more stringent than the requirements to practice private criminal defense. The majority of criminal cases filed in Vigo County are appointed to the Vigo County Public Defender's Office so the attorneys have to be familiar with the criminal procedure. This session will focus on the criminal defense perspective and the myths we encounter along the way to trial.

Nature, Archaeology, Architecture, and Sustainable Solutions in Europe and Australia
With James Speer, ISU Professor of Geography and Geology

Date/Time: Wednesday, February 4, 2015
from 1:30 - 3 PM
Place: Westminster Village
1120 E. Davis Drive, Terre Haute

During Dr. Speer’s Sabbatical in 2014, he traveled through 12 countries giving talks on tree-ring research and sustainability at Universities throughout Europe, Australia, and New Zealand. He studied tree rings to reconstruct environmental variable.

His wife is an archaeologist, so during these travels they visited many archaeological sites and he thought about what they were seeing in the context of the lifetime of the trees. He was amazed at the development of culture and language in Mycenae in Greece which was active 3,500 years ago, but then he thought about some individual trees that he worked with that had more than 4,000 rings which put human cultural development in the temporal context of his work. This talk will be a pictorial tour viewing many archaeological sites, architecture from some of the major European cities, and nature. From this perspective it seems clear that we need to live in balance with nature and develop more sustainable solutions to the way that we live so he will end with some sustainable solutions that are being promoted in the different countries.

John Wooden: Setting the Record Straight
With Curtis Tomak

Date/Time: Wednesday, March 25, 2015 from 1:30 - 3 PM
Place: Westminster Village
1120 E. Davis Drive, Terre Haute

Recent research by Curtis Tomak has uncovered much new and interesting information pertaining to Coach Wooden's earlier life. Mr. Tomak's presentation is based upon that research and focuses on Wooden's life from his birth in Martinsville in 1910 to the beginning years of his coaching career. The new account resulting from the recently discovered information is a documented, detailed, corrected account of Wooden's life during that time period. It includes a number of instances where the results of the research differ significantly from the long-held standard stories about John Wooden, including stories given in Wooden's own books.

Curtis Tomak is a professional archaeologist with undergraduate and graduate degrees from Indiana University. He lives in Martinsville, and, in addition to archaeological publications, is a published author of books about Morgan County and articles about John Wooden.

25 years and still growing!
Ukraine: Past, Present, and Future
With Barbara Skinner, ISU Associate Professor of History

Date/Time: Wednesday, April 22, 2015
from 1:30 - 3 PM
Place: Westminster Village
1120 E. Davis Drive, Terre Haute

One year ago, Ukraine blasted onto front pages of newspapers around the world with mass demonstrations that led to the ouster of pro-Russian President Yanukovich. In March 2014, Russian President Putin's military forces laid claim to Crimea and began to stoke hostilities in the coal-mining region of the Donbass, leading to a civil war. Dr. Barbara Skinner, a specialist in Russian and East European history, will outline the relevant history behind the crisis in Ukraine and assess the current situation in its political, economic, social, and cultural ramifications. Dr. Skinner has carried out scholarly research in both Ukraine and Russia and will bring her on-the-ground observations into her analysis of the situation.

The program is in partnership with OLLI and the “Wabash Valley Community Read.” True Grit is, perhaps above all, a book about the making of heroes and the journeys they undertake. Mike will discuss both their story and the role of the journey in our own lives.

The author of four books, Mike writes “The Off Season,” a human interest column for the Terre Haute Tribune-Star and has taught high school English, American History, and Humanities for 36 years.

The Environmental Impact of Industrialization Along the Wabash River, A History
With Lisa Phillips, ISU Associate Professor of History

Date/Time: Thursday, March 26, 2015
from 1:30 - 3 PM

Place: Vigo County Public Library, Main Branch, Meeting Room A

The Wabash River holds a central place in Indiana’s History. A major waterway, the “waapaasiiki” was the mode by which goods and people were transported across the area from the days when, as its name indicates, it was “clear” and pristine to a low period when it was deemed un-swimmable, its fish too contaminated for human consumption. Lisa Phillips, Associate Professor of History, and Indiana State History Majors will discuss the history that helps to explain this deterioration. While much of the explanation involves the long history of industrialization and its consequences, just as interesting are the ways in which people understood “pollution” over the centuries.

History - The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Indiana State University (OLLI at ISU) offered its first adult programs in 1997 as the Dewey Institute for Lifelong Learning. At that time, the all-volunteer organization was – by necessity – small. However, as the Institute became more and more popular, it outgrew its “all volunteer” capabilities: the members needed to hire a full-time director. But where could they find the money to pay a director’s salary? Fortunately, in 2006 they discovered that the Bernard Osher Foundation was providing one-year grants of $100,000 to lifelong learning institutes that could demonstrate that they met its extensive and thoughtful criteria. After receiving these $100,000 grants for three consecutive years, the foundation invited Indiana State to apply for a $1,000,000 endowment. After intense work by a hard-working and devoted committee, those funds were awarded in 2010.

Value - Why join and support OLLI at ISU? Participation in OLLI affords each member with opportunities to experience a wide variety of stimulating programs, social interaction and lifelong learning activities that enrich each member’s life.

Additional Support - The Bernard Osher Foundation requires that the funds from the endowment be invested. Consequently, OLLI at ISU must operate on the income from the investments. OLLI at ISU receives 5% (approximately $50,000) of the market value of the endowment each year. Although this requirement ensures that lifelong learning at ISU will continue in perpetuity, the net effect is that the current income ($50,000) is one-half of the income from the original grants ($100,000). To maintain OLLI at ISU’s current level of programs, please consider making a tax-deductible donation. All funds are used to offset daily costs and underwrite lectures, courses and special events.

Contributions to the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Indiana State University are appreciated and are key to ensuring our continued operation. These donations are tax-deductible and will be used by the organization to help increase programming, offset daily costs, and underwrite the cost of special events.

Please make checks payable to the Indiana State University Foundation and fill out the form below, or call 812-541-8400.

Adverse Weather Policy
If the ISU Campus is closed due to adverse weather conditions, OLLI programs are also canceled. If you are registered for a program you will be notified by phone or e-mail about the rescheduled program date. If OLLI presentations are canceled, an email will be sent out and a notice will be on the Program Administrator’s voicemail at 812-237-2336. The easiest way to determine if your class or trip has been canceled is to call the OLLI offices at 812-237-2345. Campus closures are also announced by local media.

Program Cancellation
Although highly unlikely, a program may be canceled due to under-enrollment or some other circumstance beyond the Institute’s control. Members will be notified of a cancellation and have the option of a credit to their account or requesting a refund.

If you need to cancel your registration for a program, you must contact the OLLI office at least 3 days prior to the date of the program to receive a refund or credit. If the program you must cancel is a day-trip or overnight trip, you must contact the OLLI office at least 10 days prior to the of the trip to receive a refund or credit. If you do not show for a program that you are registered for and have not canceled in the stated time you will be charged for that program.
