

Winter 2015 Student Success Workshops for Faculty and Staff

Sponsored by the Student Success Council
& the Office of Student Success

Academic Advising Series

Changes and Challenges in Higher Education Academic Advising

(video recorded webinar co-sponsored with the University College)

January 27; 10-11:30am – HMSU 307.

Description: Good advising matters. Learn what is emerging nationally and how to improve advising.

Faculty Advisor Professional Development Needs Discussion

February 10; 10-11am – HMSU 307.

Description: Join a discussion on the professional development needs of faculty advisors and how to optimally structure/deliver it.

Appreciative Advising: The 6 Phases that Lead to Student Success

February 24th; 10-12noon – HMSU 307.

Description: Learn about appreciative advising, a method of advising engagement with students that helps them discover their pathway to achievement and prepares them to double down on their educational goals.

Provocative Ideas Series

NPR's Hidden Brain Podcast with Shankar Vedantam - Episode 4:

Students and Teachers

(co-sponsored with the Faculty Center for Teaching Excellence)

Enjoy it now and engage with us later:

<http://www.npr.org/podcasts/510308/hidden-brain>.

January 21; 2-3:15pm – Faculty Center for Teaching Excellence (FCTE).

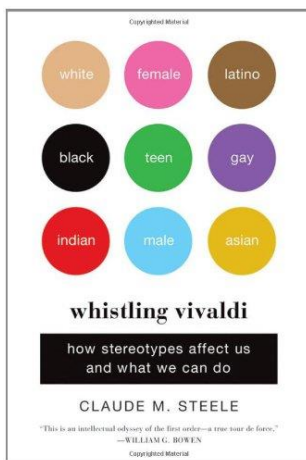

Description: Shankar states “What I found very powerful – the relationship between student and teacher is not incidental to how education works, it's central.”

Book Read: Whistling Vivaldi - How Stereotypes Affect Us and What We Can Do

(co-sponsored by the Faculty Center for Teaching Excellence)

January 28 & February 11 - 12:15-1:45pm; February 29; 12-1:30pm (box lunch provided) – FCTE.

Description: Acclaimed social psychologist, Claude Steele, makes his extraordinary research on stereotype threat accessible in this groundbreaking, easy read book. Learn why stereotypes can lead to student underperformance and how it can be overcome. Dr. Mary Murphy, national expert on stereotype threat and college student belonging, will facilitate the closing session on February 29. Space limited; request your free book now from the FCTE.

Be watching for announcements of other workshop opportunities this winter, including advanced topics with data from Blue Reports.